

An aerial photograph of a landscape, likely a wetland or marsh area. A prominent red boundary line is drawn on the image, enclosing a specific region. Within this red-outlined area, there is a small red square. The landscape is characterized by various shades of brown and tan, suggesting different types of vegetation or soil. A road or path is visible on the right side of the image, and a body of water or a very wet area is visible on the left. The overall image has a grainy, high-contrast appearance typical of older aerial photography.